Doctors in Training

IPPNW

International Physicians for the Prevention of Nuclear War
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training
Doctors in Training

IPPNW
Doctors in Training Survival Card

This card, which should fit neatly in your coat pocket, is supposed to ease the transition from mundane student life to the demanding task of being a real doc.

During your studies, you were active for IPPNW, partly because you believed that a physician has a social responsibility to speak up against wrongs. Now that you yourself are a physician, wouldn't it be sad if all your enthusiasm and idealism would end up in the shelf together with your lecture notes and exam slips?

IPPNW is keen on keeping you as an active member. But we also know that as a doctor in training, it's not as easy to be active as it was during those golden student days. So don't worry - no one expects you to be 100% responsive and involved in every event. But to loose touch completely would be a shame as well.

That's why we've come up with a few ideas to keep up your enthusiasm and to keep you involved without having to invest a whole lot of time or energy. That way you can remain a valuable part of IPPNW while becoming a marvellous doctor at the same time...